Who the program is for

A consultation answers a question. The program stays with you while the answers turn into changes, over six months of ordinary life.

- The same pattern keeps returning, in more than one area of life.
- A big decision is coming, and you want steady guidance through it.
- You would rather have someone stay with you than a single reading.
- Your family is part of the question too.
- Ask whether it suits you

How the six months work

Guidance that stays

“Whenever we have to take a major decision, we consult her, and she tells us the broader picture. The response is so accurate, and the availability is amazing.”
